

Employee Profile – Delphinus Edwin: One of SLASPA’s Shining Lights

Delphinus Edwin has been employed at the Saint Lucia Air and Sea Ports Authority (SLASPA) for over thirty years. With this, has come a wealth of knowledge and skill he constantly and consistently applies to his tasks as the Electrician at George F. L. Charles Airport. “What I love about my job is that it is not monotonous, there is always something different to do. I am constantly challenged. Problem Solving and troubleshooting in my field is another aspect I like. The satisfaction I get by solving issues makes me feel great” beamed Delphinus in his interview.

Delphinus has received training in Electrical Power Generation, Electrical Conservation, Industrial Safety and First Aid, and has also attended a Management Development Program for Supervisors, his wealth of experience and training has made him a specialist in Airfield Lighting. “I like the employee development programs that SLASPA offers. The Authority creates opportunities for self development and I am testament to that. With my training and experience, I would like to help my department establish a proper preventative maintenance program enabling the sector to be pro-active rather than reactive.”

After all the repartee about work, Delphinus let loose and revealed a couple of his secrets...one of which is he loves gardening and producing vegetables and fruits for his family and is a member of the Friends of the Elderly Adelaide & Francis Memorial Home, where he visits and socializes with the residents.

It is evident that Delphinus Edwin is an all-rounded individual that epitomizes characteristics that many would like to emulate. He has a keen sense of job and social responsibility and is a loving husband and father to his three kids. Congratulations Delphinus on your achievements during your tenure at SLASPA!
