FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SLASPA embarks on a Public Relations campaign to inform Port Users of safety and Security Measures at the Ports

Castries – September 15, 2008– The Saint Lucia Air and Sea Ports Authority (SLASPA) has embarked on an international public relations campaign to notify all port users of the current safety and security measures at George F. L. Charles and Hewanorra International Airports and the Castries and Vieux Fort Seaports on September 30th, 2008.

The campaign commenced with presentations to all internal and external customers on the Vehicle Operators' Permit System and the Occupational Health and Safety measures. A 60 second infomercial will soon be released on all local television stations and newspapers that outlines the correct usage of the passes and the safety requirements at the ports. A guide to Safety and Security Procedures at the Airports and Seaports is currently being disseminated to all airport and seaport users, suppliers and tenants, agents, brokers and NVOCC's all port employees, stevedores and airline companies.

Information on these safety and security measures can also be heard on the major local radio stations and can be found on SLASPA's website at <http://www.slaspa.com>

SLASPA urges all Port users to make use of the information available and contact SLASPA for any additional information they require.
